"Go Green" Initiative - Plantation

Objective: The "Go Green" initiative, spearheaded by the Department of Information Technology, aimed to enhance environmental sustainability on campus through a collective plantation drive. This initiative involved all members of the department planting 10 trees each, resulting in a significant contribution to the campus's greenery.

Event Details:

1. Participants: All members of the Department of Information Technology actively participated in the plantation drive, demonstrating their commitment to environmental conservation.

2. Plantation Drive: The event focused on strategically planting 10 trees per participant, with careful consideration given to the selection of ~~tree species~~ ^{plants} suitable for the campus environment.

3. Department-wide Impact: As a collective effort, the IT department planted a total of ~~[Total Number of Participants] x 10 = [Total Number of Trees Planted]~~ ³⁵ trees across the campus. ~~across the~~

4. Species Diversity: ~~The initiative aimed to increase biodiversity by selecting a diverse range of native and environmentally beneficial tree species.~~ ^{Dept}

4. ~~objc~~ The initiative aimed at making students responsible to plant a plant and take care of it.

Impact Analysis:

The "Go Green" initiative by the Department of Information Technology significantly improved the campus's green cover. The planted trees are expected to contribute to environmental conservation by enhancing air quality, regulating temperature, and fostering a more sustainable and aesthetically pleasing campus environment.

Future Commitments: The IT department is committed to nurturing and maintaining the planted trees, ensuring their long-term growth and positive impact on the campus ecosystem. This initiative serves as a foundation for future environmental activities and awareness programs within the department.
